Commission Bulletin 2014-1

Selection of Officials for World Title Fights

At least three weeks before the date of a world title fight, the Commission will provide to the representatives of the two boxers a list of four (4) referees and eight (8) judges from whom the officials for the fight will be selected by the Commission. The two sides will be given four days to offer objections to any of the officials on the list. Each objection must identify the official against whom an objection is being registered, the basis for such objection and any evidence which supports the objection. The Commission will determine the validity of each objection, and will strike from the list each official against whom a valid objection was registered. The Commission will select a referee and three judges from the remaining officials on the list.
